

To find an eAudio book in the catalog

Click on Advanced Keyword
This will take you to a special search page.

The image shows a search interface with two main sections: 'SPECIFICsearch' and 'QUICKsearch'. The 'SPECIFICsearch' section has a dropdown menu with options: 'Advanced Keyword', 'Author/Title', 'Specialized', 'Title', 'Author', 'Keyword', and 'Subject'. An arrow points from the text 'Click on Advanced Keyword' to the 'Advanced Keyword' option. The 'QUICKsearch' section has a 'TITLE' dropdown menu, a 'Look in the following Location:' dropdown menu with 'Northland Public Library' selected, and a 'Search' button.

On the search page, in the Material Type box, scroll down to the last option and click on it. This should be eAudio.

Then in the Search for box, type the title you are looking for, or the author, or a word describing what you're looking for. If you want to see ALL the eAudio books, type an asterisk (*) in the box.

Click Submit.

The image shows a search results page with a 'Search for:' box containing an asterisk (*). Below the search box are three dropdown menus: 'Material Type' (set to 'eAudio'), 'Language' (set to 'ANY'), and 'Location' (set to 'ANY'). There are also input fields for 'Year: After' and 'Before', a 'Publisher:' field, and a 'Search and Sort:' dropdown menu set to 'sorted by date'. A 'Submit' button is at the bottom right.

Look through the results for something that looks good! Each result in the catalog should have an eAudio picture next to it on the right-hand side.

To find out more about an item, click on the title of the item.

The image shows a catalog entry for 'Borrower of the night [electronic resource] / by Elizabeth Peters. Peters, Elizabeth.' The entry is on a yellow background. On the left, there is a shopping cart icon and the text 'Add to Book'. On the right, there are links for 'Request' and 'Availability'. An eAudio icon is on the far right. An arrow points from the text 'To find out more about an item, click on the title of the item.' to the title of the book.

Your next step will be downloading the eAudio book. The steps may vary depending on the type of eAudio book you have discovered. There are two types of eAudio books currently available: Netlibrary and Overdrive. Northland has handouts to describe how to handle each type of eAudio book.
